THE SENATORIAL CAUCUS. After the Republican Senatorial cauthe report of the sub-committee appoint ed to revise the standing committees, it was suggested that a committee of five should be appointed to confer with a similar committee on the part of the House, with a view of deciding the necessary measures to be acted upon at the present session, so as to make the session as short as possible. The following Senators were appointed to consider the matter and report to the next caucus: Messrs. Sher man, Elmunds, Trumbull, Stewart and Pool. The committee, this afternoon, after a brisf session, agreed upon the measures, some five in all, that, in their judgment, it is necessary to pass, all of which, they think, can be done within at least thirty days. Among the measures which they recommend are the bill to repeal the Civil Tenure Act, and the to strengthen the public credit, which Johnson refused to sign, and the [coper bill relating to national banks. The House Committee will be appointto-morrow, when a joint session will be held, and the action of the Senate Committee laid before them for adoption. The opinion was nearly unanimous today, in caucus, that Congress ought not to remain here longer than thirty days.
